TITAN Technology Partners Awarded SafeCharter(SM) Contract by MOR PPM

CHARLOTTE, NC - (July 16, 2007) – TITAN Technology Partners, a leading provider of managed industry solutions and named the fastest growing technology company in North Carolina in 2006, today announced TITAN has been awarded a SafeCharter(SM) contract from South Carolina based MOR PPM, Inc. to support their JD Edwards applications over the next three years. MOR PPM provides a wide array of maintenance services including complete maintenance, supplemental support, and capital construction. TITAN Technology Partners will provide a comprehensive hosted and managed services solution to support and manage MOR PPM's JD Edwards World environment of financial, project management, and human capital management applications utilizing TITAN's Center of Excellence.

“It was critical for MOR PPM to identify a partner that could host and manage our World solution with the ability to protect our technology investment in the future,” said Mike Roach, Chief Financial Officer of MOR PPM. “TITAN Technology Partners was able to demonstrate their expertise in JD Edwards and Oracle and their ability to successfully manage other clients our size.”

“We welcome MOR PPM as a client and their confidence in TITAN to protect their technology investments by leveraging TITAN's experts to support their business applications,” stated Peter Nosek, SVP of Oracle and JD Edwards Professional and Managed Services at TITAN Technology Partners.
