TITAN Technology Partners Adds Leadership for SAP North America Practice

CHARLOTTE, NC (January 16, 2009) - TITAN Technology Partners, a global provider of consulting and outsourced industry solutions, today announced it has added two seasoned executives to lead the SAP Practice in North America.

Michael Gunn has joined TITAN as Senior Vice President, Sales of SAP Solutions, and Gary Brown has joined TITAN as Senior Vice President of SAP Services.

Vincent D'Orazio, Executive Vice President of Global Services for TITAN Technology Partners, says, "Michael and Gary's leadership roles are keys to TITAN growth plans for our SAP practice in North America. Their consulting experiences will be invaluable for our clients who run SAP based solutions."

Michael Gunn has a proven track record of selling and delivering management consulting services, as well as business and technology solutions over the past twenty-five years to various industries. Prior to joining TITAN, Michael held a senior executive leadership position with Bristlecone. Prior to Bristlecone, Michael's career began at McKinsey & Company and has included various executive leadership positions at Atos Origin and PriceWaterhouseCoopers.

Michael holds a Doctorate in Operations Research and Computer Science from the University of Waterloo in Ontario, Canada and an MBA and B.S. in Mathematics from the London Business School, University of London. Mr. Gunn is a certified management consultant and also had a founding role in the launching of the Collaborative Planning, Forecasting and Replenishment (CPFR) initiative.

Gary Brown has over thirty years deploying enterprise wide solutions across a variety of industries, including the past eighteen years focusing on SAP solutions. Prior to joining TITAN, Mr. Brown held a leadership position for Hitachi Consulting's SAP practice. Prior to Hitachi, Mr. Brown's career included various leadership positions at CSC Consulting, KPMG, Ernst & Young, and PriceWaterhouseCoopers. Mr. Brown holds a B.A. in Accounting and Business Administration from Knox College.
